FOREWORD

The following data on the Kendalls of Connecticut has been collected from time to time, never with the intent of making a serious study of the family, but as more data was accumulated interest in the family has grown. With an exchange of data with Mrs. Ann Wiley of Rockford, Illinois the question arose as to which David Kendall, the husband of Jane Adams or the husband of Abigail Holt, was the son of Isaac Kendall, Senior, of Ashford, Connecticut. At first it seemed quite obvious that the David who married Jane Adams was the son of Isaac Kendall, but on examination, it seemed that the other David Kendall could very easily have been mistaken for the son of Isaac. The following data was then reviewed very carefully and put in order; and it is hoped that the results will be of some aid to those with Kendall lines in Connecticut. It should be stressed that all of the problems have not been solved; especially as to which Daniel Kendall had a wife; the ancestry of John Kendall of East Hartford; and the ancestry of David Kendall of Windham, etc. It should also be mentioned that the Ashford Land Records have not been completely and thoroughly searched. This fact is not due to an oversight.

Volume 39, pages 17-23 of the New England Register contain data of the original Kendalls in Woburn, Massachusetts, but the article merely mentions the branches which removed to Connecticut. Three publications have been printed previously containing data on the Kendalls of Connecticut. In 1908 the Old Northwest Genealogical Quarterly, volume XI, pages 124-127 contained an article by O. F. Monette called "Five Isaac Kendalls". Outside of the direct line of these five Isaac Kendalls there are some serious errors. In 1919 there was published by William M. Clemens the "Kendall Family in America", a booklet of 24 pages which discusses the Connecticut families, quoting a few births and marriage records without attempting to assign them to any respective family. The latest printed data has appeared in the Woodstock Genealogies, volume 7 page 176 (1943). This data carries only the few lines of descent which deal in particular with residence or connection with Woodstock, Connecticut. In order to be complete, it has been necessary to include much of the data which appears therein, on the first four pages 176-179.

Ch 1X12.4-5

Mention should be made here of the "Descendants of William Kendall of Ashford" by Kenneth Laughlin published in May of 1953 (20 pages), which is concerned with the descendants of William Kendall #50 of this publication; and also the manuscript genealogy of the Kendalls of Massachusetts at the American Antiquarian Society. A second edition of the "Descendants of William Kendall of Ashford" was published in 1955.

I am indebted to and appreciate the interest shown by Mrs. Ann Wiley for her contribution on the family of Phineas Kendall and to Mr. Floyd C. Paine of Pavilion, New York for sending in data which has been used...such data being not readily obtainable.

103. Theda[6] b April 17, 1767

It has been assumed that due to the fact that the only David Kendall appearing in the 1790 census in Connecticut is the elder David of Brooklyn, that the others had removed from the state. And so it would seem as we have no further record for this David Kendall (#39). However, in a private record of deaths kept by a man living in the Westford section, the following two entries were made: David Kendall died Sept. 22, 1824 ae 80; and widow of David Kendall died Jan. 4, 1827 ae 86. These entries would seem to be applicable to this David rather than the David Kendall b in Windham in 1744. However, if it can be found that the wife of this David Kendall of Windham --either Mehitable Stiles, or an unknown second wife, was three years older than her husband, the dates of death assigned to the foregoing David and Hannah Kendall would certainly be in doubt.

DAVID KENDALL
of Windham (Hampton Parish) Conn. and Ashford (Westford Parish)

On first examination, it would seem that this David Kendall could be easily confused with the David Kendall #9, page 5, the son of Isaac Kendall; but after examination of Church and Land Records, it seems to me that this David did not remove to Ashford unil just a few years before his death, and always seems to be connected with the Holts. There are just a few significant facts which help to separate him from the other David Kendalls in Ashford, but even at that, the dates of both families run so parallel, that it seems more than just coincidence. None of the Davids, except that of Brooklyn, left a will; but one Land Record was made in Ashford in connection with this David Kendall which is rather explanatory and is now presented with the other facts:

I

b ? ; d Ashford, Conn. Dec. 16, 1777; m Windham, Conn. (Hampton Parish) Nov. 5, 1741 Abigail Holt b Andover, Mass. Feb. 20, 1723; d Ashford, Conn. Aug. 25, 1784, dau. of Robert Hold and Rebecca Preston.

Children (Preston) were:i. Abraham b Aug. 5, 1771; ii Allis (Alice?) b Oct. 12, 1773; iii Alva b March 9, 1779

*III. David b Nov. 13, 1744

IV. Alice b Jan. 18, 1746/7; d Ashford, Conn. April 16, 1798 (ae 51) of consumption. Called Ellen on vital records and Elsie on Church Records (Westford).

V. Rebecca bpt. Jan. 22, 1749

VI. Ezekiel bpt. June 30, 1751

References: Abigail Holt Kendall had a brother Ezekiel Holt b April 21, 1727 who owned land in Ashford. David Kendall bought land of Samuel Green in Hampton Parish about 1738-1740, he was called of Windham at the time. Hampton Church Records: Jan. 3, 1742 David Kendall received into full communion. Westford Church Records: June 5, 1774 David Kendall admitted from Canada Parish,(i.e. Hampton). Ashford Land Records: Vol. 11 page 136 Jan. 13, 1772 David Kendall buys land from John Cummins. Vol. 11 page 296, dated Dec. 30, 1777, We, Abigail Kendall and Enos Preston and Abigail, and Ellice Kendall, all of Ashford sell to David Kendall, land bounded East on Ezekiel Holt's land. .....said land bought of John Cummins of Willington, dec'd by David Kendall of Ashford, aforesaid, deceased. Vol. 14, page 293 dated Dec. 31, 1777; recorded May 19, 1804 David Kendall sells land bounded west by land of Ezekiel Holt. Also Vol. 11 page 262 dated March 4, 1776: David Kendall for 60 pounds rec. of my son, David Kendall Jr...sells land bounded SW corner and west by Ezekiel Holt...witnesses were Elijah Whiton and Alice Kendall.

PATTERSON FAMILY BACKGROUND

The Patterson family, Scotch Irish, belonging to a sect of the Clan MacLaren, descended from a James Patterson, Gentleman, who obtained a lease of land in the quarter of Mongragom early in the 17th century. James's father went from Glengarnock, Ayrshire, Scotland to settle in County Donegal, Ulster.* It is not certain when the Pattersons began coming to America. Bishop Meade in his book "Old Church Ministers and Families of Virginia" gives the list of Vestry for the St. Peter's Church from the year 1685 to the year 1758. In that list was one David Patterson.

The ancestry of our Texas branch of Pattersons is said to be traced to one Patterson who was a native of Scotland and came to America in the early Colonial days. He fought in the Revolutionary War and after the Republic was established, settled in North Carolina where he reared his family and spent the remainder of his days.

*From the "Abridged Compendium of American Genealogy" - volume I page 601

Twentieth Century History of Southwest Texas - volume II published by Lewis Publishing Co. in 1907

It may necessitate a great deal of research to obtain the name of this Patterson ancestor who was a Revolutionary hero. Since we know he had a son named John, his name, too, may have been John. The following records on "John Patterson" of North Carolina have been taken from the DAR lineage book.

John Bowles was appointed a Commissioner to select location for 'county site'. On August 16, 1858 N. McC. Patterson was elected Sheriff and A. B. Dilliard one of the Commissioners. New Publications of Chedwato

Two new genealogies and a group of cemetery inscriptions dealing with families who were pioneer settlers in Texas.

The DILLARD FAMILY of Uvalde County, Texas -- compiled by Georgia Belle Getzendaner contains family history of the Dillards beginning in Virginia and Tennessee. Then the family is traced as it settled in Uvalde County, Texas. This family married into many other southern families as well as northern families who moved into Texas. A book of fifty-two pages bound in a durable paper cover reproduced by our silk screen process.

The history of the PATTERSON FAMILY is by the same compiler. The Pattersons came from North Carolina, Alabama, South Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky on into Texas. The intermarriages of this family are not confined entirely to southern families. A book of seventy-three pages bound in a durable paper cover reproduced by our silk screen process.

Both books have been completely indexed by Chedwato Service in order to make them of value for quick reference in a library or on a personal book shelf. Each family history has been brought down to date and includes war records for those who served in World Wars I and II.

The Patterson and Dillard families settled the same section of Texas. The third book of this group is the LEONA CHAPEL CEMETERY INSCRIPTIONS which includes burial inscriptions for members of these families.
